Trexler Library, DeSales University
Policy on unattended personal belongings in the building

For your protection, valuables should never be left unattended while at the library.

At library closing time, any personal property which is left unattended in study rooms or on tables, will be stored for safety reasons in a locked space behind the circulation desk. You may come to the circulation desk and claim your items the following day.

At any other time of day, personal items left unattended for two or more hours will also be locked safely behind the Circulation, and more valuable items such as laptops will be sent to the Campus Security Office.

Call the library at 610-282-1100 ext. 1266 for more information.
